Nature is a volume

of which God is the author

Moses Harvey

Editor's Foreword

NATURE IS A VOLUME of which God is the author. Looking at this work of God, one can see all the glory of creation unfolding before him in four eternal chapters. Year after year through summer, winter, spring, and fall the process occurs and reoccurs.

A soft breeze blows. The leaves of a tree swish their silvery skirts while swaying to the wind's tune. The heat of summer becomes the cool crispness of fall. Slowly the silvery dresses are exchanged for those of gold, brown, red, or yellow. One day a leaf quietly detaches itself and in a faint breeze flutters silently to the ground. Almost with an air of relief, without a struggle, others follow faster and faster. Soon the ground is covered. One night a wind, a little harder than usual, and carrying perhaps the drops of a cold rain, comes. The show is over. Naked and bare the tree stands stark against the sky.

As diverse in kind and character as the leaves of Nature's trees, is man, God's greatest creation. Coming into the world tender and unprotected as the bud on the branch, flowering into youth, hovering in maturity, and withering in old age, he attempts with the fury of the storm and the intenseness of the summer heat to fulfill each innate desire.

In the process of learning to channel his desires and to prepare for the storm of life, the boy goes to kindergarten, the youth to high school, and the young man to college. The older and more mature attempt to aid him in the conquest of the unknown, not realizing that part of the secret lies in the patience, wisdom, order, balance, quietness, simplicity, and interrelatedness of Nature, the aged pedagogue.

But man, despite all his earthly knowledge, falls at the touch of death like a withering leaf or a lifeless branch.

Realizing that the college education is a dominant factor in the life of modern man, even though in physical form he is a transitory character in the volume of God, this book reviews a year of the adventures and experiences of the students of Elizabethtown College.

Dean Vera R. Hackman

For Quiet, Devoted

REACHING FAR BENEATH the earth many roots support the giant oak towering into the heavens. Unseen and unknown, these roots are the very lifeblood of the tree. Walking across a college campus one seldom stops to think about how Nature provides the surrounding foliage. Fewer times still are those persons remembered who labor industriously, often quietly or behind the scenes, to keep the college abreast with the changing times.

Almost seventeen years ago Miss Vera R. Hackman began her duties at Elizabethtown College. Serving since that time as a teacher of English, history, and journalism, Sock and Buskin advisor, advisor to both the ETOWNIAN and CONESTOGAN, Director of Student Activities, and Dean of Women, she has shown an undivided interest in each student seeking her help.

Watching long dresses and high stockings give way to short skirts and bobby socks, Miss Hackman has pioneered in many areas of college life. She initiated a journalism course on the campus and made the College newspaper, the ETOWNIAN, conform to modern newspaper standards. In 1956, under her guidance, the CONESTOGAN staff produced Elizabethtown's first All-American yearbook.

Two years ago social activities were enhanced with the holding of supervised dances on campus for the first time. Last year Junior and Senior women gained the privilege of living in honors houses. Recently Elizabethtown College was approved for membership in the American Association of University Women. Miss Hackman played a significant role in all of these endeavors.

Throughout the years the influence of this dynamic personality has been felt in countless other situations, from students' personal problems to administrative difficulties.

With deep respect and in appreciation for a never ending dedication to a never ending task, we dedicate the 1961 CONESTOGAN to Miss Vera R. Hackman, the Dean of Women of Elizabethtown College.

Administration and Faculty

*Come forth into the light of things,
Let Nature be your teacher.*

*One impulse from the vernal wood
May teach you more of man,
Of moral evil and of good,
Than all the sages can.*

—William Wordsworth

When this poem is read in college English classes, the professor usually smiles and says, “These lines were not meant to be taken literally.” This may be true, but it does not rule out the fact that much of what the poem says is also true. Nature is a teacher, but by no means the only one.

Here on the college campus students encounter many teachers—Nature, classmates, activities, books, and the faculty. These latter teachers are the forces that guide and interpret the knowledge acquired from all other sources.

As winter is the season of mature serenity, so the faculty exhibits its mature serenity in guiding students toward their goals.

In Recognition of

Dr. A. C. Baugher

Pd. B., A. B., B. S., M. S., Ph. D., LL. D.

President for Twenty Years

Dr. Baugher—minister and educator.

ON ITS HURRIED journey across the land the wind drops a seed. Unnoticed, but pampered by the sun and rain in its warm bed, the seed springs to life. First one sees it as a seedling, then as a sapling, and after many years as the great Norway maple. Just as the great trees of nature rise from such humble beginnings, God provides men who rise from a humble background to do great work.

Over six decades ago a little boy was compelled to quit school because he was too young to attend. This boy later continued his education and worked during the summers in a canning factory, on a farm, and on a railroad work train. The young man distinguished himself by receiving the first A.B. degree conferred by Elizabethtown College. After further study, the M.S. degree in chemistry and the Ph.D. degree were acquired from the University of Pennsylvania and New York University respectively.

This man, with a notable background as an educator at Elizabethtown College and other institutions of higher learning and as a leader in the Church of the Brethren, was elected president of Elizabethtown College in January of 1941. Following twenty years of faithful service in this capacity, he announced plans for retirement last spring.

In this year of 1961 the CONESTOGAN staff wishes to recognize the service rendered by Dr. A. C. Baugher, an alumnus, a professor, a dean, and a president of Elizabethtown College.

Service Rendered

Dr. Baugher leaves the gym with the 1960 commencement speaker, Ezra Taft Benson, ex-Secretary of Agriculture.

Dr. and Mrs. Baugher relax in their home.

Dean of the College

ROY E. McAULEY
B.S., B.D., M.A., Ed.D.

STUDENTS OFTEN see the tall figure of Dr. Roy McAuley walking with a purposeful stride across campus. Five years ago he came to Elizabethtown College to serve as academic dean. In July of this year 1961 the dean will become the ninth president of the College.

A native of Wichita, Kansas, he has a background which includes service in the ministry and education. Considering himself primarily a churchman, he accepted the presidency as a call to be dutifully fulfilled. He faces the challenges of the future, desiring to build upon the foundations laid by those before him.

In addition to their busy schedules on campus, faculty members have served as speakers and resource personnel in many and varied situations.

Sunday School conventions, leadership training schools, summer camps, education conferences, music festivals, adult education classes, art exhibits, educational television programs, civic clubs, libraries, churches, alumni groups, student conferences, professional associations, advisory staffs, and science fairs have made claims on their time.

TAKING PART, many times behind the scenes, in the hectic whirl of campus life are the house parents. These people, in addition to their official management duties in the four main dormitories, become to many students "parents" away from home.

Although their hours are busy, they manage to find time for hobbies and other activities. Mrs. Allan (Women's Residence) has recently taken an interest in painting. In the Men's Residence Mr. Brandt spends his leisure hours arranging winter bouquets, while his wife takes advantage of her green thumb.

Mrs. Cox (Women's Residence) finds cooking fun and enjoys an evening of Scrabble. The co-eds in Fairview Hall greatly admire Mrs. Heaton's knack with knitting needles. In Alpha Hall it is not uncommon to see Mrs. Cosner busily watering the many various plants throughout the house.

Lucy Clemens assists as Dr. Troy Thompson administers a flu shot to Beth Swanson.

Louise Miller calls a doctor for a student with the measles.

Keeping accurate records of student illnesses is part of Elaine Showalter's job.

Esther Rohrer gives Emma Horne a lesson in operating the college switchboard.

Nurses

THE FIRST major duty of the college nurses—Lucy Clemens, Louise Miller, and Elaine Showalter—was to administer flu shots as a precautionary measure late last fall. Aside from their busy class schedules, they check students' many ailments—taping sprains, handing out pills, and carrying trays. Theirs is a never-ending task.

Secretariat

The dean's secretary, Gladys Singer, seems to have spied a more interesting subject than the catalogue to which Doris Lewis, secretary to the President, Martha Farver, secretary to the Treasurer, and Gretchen Carskadon of admissions direct their attention.

Doris Cunningham, secretary in the library, watches the checking of students' grades by Ruth Miller and Lois Miller, secretaries in the Registrar's office.

Mildred Lyter and Ardell Madara of the student personnel office and Dolores Klase of the Alumni office collaborate to dictate a letter to Ruth Frank, secretary in the Public Relations office.

Levina Huber, Caroline Zarfoss, and Robert Hollinger, bookkeeper, tend to their daily tasks in the business office.

Wrench in hand, Walter Brown jokes with Donald Zellner about an incident of the day.

Handymen

Harry Blough, Warren Grubb, and Leroy Fackler make a pretense of preparedness for window washing.

Howard Ober, Paul Gerlack, and Martin Sherrer make much use of a pick-up truck during their work day.

Daily Providers

THE KITCHEN STAFF, directed by Food Service Director Betty Holsinger, endeavors to provide the student body with attractive, well-balanced meals. Special Thanksgiving, Christmas, and Easter dinners highlighted the evening meals during the year.

MEMBERS of the janitorial staff worked long additional hours this year in keeping campus roads and walks clear of the heavy snowfall. Headed by Mr. Walter Brown, the staff handles the majority of maintenance work required for the buildings and grounds on campus.

Mary Brandt, Moyer Craighead, and Mrs. Forrest Davis serve lunch to students like Gayle Lowman.

Betty Holsinger and Mary Hackman prepare cherry pies for serving at an evening meal.

Hamburg is made into meat loaf by Mrs. Paul Heisey, Bertha Ishler, Louise Stroh, Ruth Kipp, Mary Brandt, and Sue Eyer.

Student Body

*The world puts on its robes of glory now;
The very flowers are tinged with deeper dyes;
The waves are bluer, and the angels pitch
Their shining tents along the sunset skies.*

—Albert Lighton

Who has looked upon a beautiful autumn day and not marveled at the diversity to be found in Nature? The trees, the sky, the flowers, the grass are all arrayed in cloaks of different colors. This diversity of form and color lends to autumn a fascination all its own. It is this same quality, diversity, which makes mankind so interesting.

The student body of a college campus is a prime example of a group of people diverse in everything from appearance to interests. However, one common goal has united them for a time—the acquiring of an education. Much of this education will be gleaned from Nature. But there is more to life than is found in the realm of Nature. Matthew Arnold said:

Know, man hath all that Nature hath, but more,

And in that more be all his hopes of good.

No matter how different students may be, this is a lesson to be learned and digested by all.

Educating for Service

THE FIRST ACT of a student on campus is registration. Here the new student is introduced to the various courses available to him in his field. From this point he is a bona fide member of the college family.

Following preliminary testing to determine his capabilities, interests, and achievement, the novice enters into the primary facet of his college life—classes. In the college classroom, he encounters the lecture method of instruction for perhaps the first time.

Freshmen stand in their first registration line at Elizabethtown College.

Dr. Apgar lectures to his cat anatomy class.

In Maple Hall Janice Ferster, a senior, studies for a philosophy test.

One of the objectives of a college education is increased individual research. The campus library is the hub of this activity and a center for campus study. Of course, not all studying is done in the library. Many students prefer the solitude of their own rooms for concentration, while others find the necessary atmosphere out-of-doors.

Elizabethtown College attracts many business students, administrative and educational. The courses in this field range from the practical to the theoretical, involving the developing and polishing of specific skills.

A liberal arts student, while concentrating upon a particular major, acquires a background in the diversified areas included in the liberal arts curriculum. Courses in the arts vary from Shakespeare to Partial Differential Equations.

A basic facet in the science curricula is laboratory work involving experimentation and research. In the various labs, students in the sciences apply principles learned in the classroom to practical situations.

The culmination of the education student's effort is the eight-week period of practice teaching during the first semester of his senior year. This more than anything else in college prepares the future teacher for his career. Another development open to seniors which enables them to round out their courses of study is the seminar program. In the fields of mathematics, history, and Bible and philosophy, small groups work in their respective areas in individual efforts to enrich their knowledge on chosen topics under faculty supervision.

Activities

*Up, up my Friend, and quit your books;
Or surely you'll grow double:*

—William Wordsworth

This is the cry most students feel when it comes to the various activities on campus. What an uninteresting existence the life of a college student would be without extra-curricular activities. Students are here to learn, that's true, but not all that learning is of a purely academic nature. There are times when it is more important to know how to get along with people than to be able to solve a differential equation. Better human understanding is just one of the many derivatives of the extra-curricular program at Elizabethtown.

Just as "Every tree gives answer to some different mood," the extra-curricular program gives answer to the moods and interests of all of the students. Through participation in the numerous clubs and organizations, students grow and develop experientially.

Government

Senate Committee Meetings

Student Senate

President
DAVE CORRELL

Vice-President
GEORGE LOTT

THE STUDENT SENATE functions as the governing body of the Student Association and has become one of the most important organizations at Elizabethtown College. As the link between the students and the administration, the senate voices the desires of both. This group supports various committees which facilitate the handling of increased responsibility accompanying an enlarging student body.

This year, under the leadership of David Correll, the Senate endeavored to provide a well-rounded program of religious, intellectual, athletic, and social activities. Correll and George Lott, vice-president, served as members of the Lyceum committee which brought such art programs as the lectures of Mr. Robert Speaight, the Baltimore Symphony Orchestra, and the Westminster Choir to Elizabethtown.

Several large dances, including the Valentine formal, numerous full-length movies, Sadie Hawkins Weekend, Winter Weekend, and the May Day musical, Carousel, were sponsored by the Senate.

Committee on Men's Affairs

The Committee of Men's Affairs gather for a meeting in the New Men's Lounge. They are Leroy Bear, Bob Rosenberger (kneeling), Lonny Thomas (co-chairman), Ellwood Kerkeslager (co-chairman), Bob Teufel, Ralph Johnson (kneeling), Glenn Bucher, Glenn Buckwalter, and Park Mellott (kneeling).

Committee on Women's Affairs

Student Exchange

INITIATED THIS YEAR under the direction of the Student Senate, the student exchange program sponsored the coming of Brigitte Putze for a year on our campus and Sylvia Hixon's study for a year at the Jugen-heim Institute in Germany.

Several fund-raising drives were undertaken this year to finance next year's program. The biggest of these was the sale of stock in the Student Exchange program. The proceeds from the Junior Fair and auction went to the fund. A novelty record hop, a senate-faculty basketball game, and a pizza party also helped to swell the total. The goal for this year was $1,000.

THE COMMITTEE on Men's Affairs and the Committee on Women's Affairs both deal with problems encountered by the students as a result of college life. Advised by Dean Crill and Dean Hackman, the committees endeavor to enforce college policy with respect to all campus rules and regulations.

This year the Committee on Men's Affairs is headed by Glenn Bucher and Ellwood Kerkeslager; the Committee on Women's Affairs by Ruth Ann Geiselman and Lois Herr. A major task demanding the attention of these groups was helping with Freshmen Orientation the opening weeks of the school year.

Clubs

Phi Beta Chi

ALL STUDENTS interested in science may participate in Phi Beta Chi. Each year new initiates, who are approved by club personnel, are accepted for membership. This year speakers such as Miss Zoe Proctor and Dr. Landis of Columbia, Pa., were used to make meetings more informative.

Lee Conner, president, speaks to members of Phi Beta Chi in Alpha Hall. Members are Dan Hodgins, Herb Spannuth, Joyce Miller, Bob Quillen, John Kieft, and James MacBride.

THE STUDENT PSEA is open to all students with a pedagogical interest. Each monthly meeting presents a different informative activity. The speakers attempt to give an insight into the teaching profession from several different angles, helping would-be teachers to realize the tremendous responsibilities inherent in the profession.

The Pennsylvania School Journal supplements the discussions held at meetings and gives a complete picture of educational facilities throughout Pennsylvania. Published by the National Education Association, the NEA Journal not only aids club members in surveying the national education scene, but also provides extra material for college courses.

PSEA members Nancy Markey, Jean Apgar, Doris Weir, Nancy Wolfgang, Luise Kempel, Judy Hash, Marilyn Young, Carroll Hershey, Judith Pelley, Barbara Brokaw, Anne Makowiak, Tony Oskam, Doris Bushong, Linda Simkins, Beverly Carney, Janet Wagner, and Sandra Reifsteck concentrate on a movie.

Society for the Advancement of Management

IN ITS SECOND YEAR on campus, SAM continued a program of organizing those students preparing to enter the business world. The promotion and advancement of management, its problems, policies, and methods were considered this year on a more elevated level.

Guest speakers highlighted the meetings. Such experiences gave members an opportunity to interview business personnel and to get direct, accurate facts about the principles of good management.

Political Science Club

MAN BY NATURE seeks order. Thus, the process of government evolved. The Political Science Club aims to promote an understanding of governmental procedures and international affairs.

Taking full advantage of the election year, the Political Science Club, along with its subsidiary organizations—the Young Republicans and the Young Democrats—co-sponsored a political rally. Democrat William Batt, State Secretary of Labor and Industry, and Republican John M. Ranck, former Lancaster County District Attorney, addressed the group, debating the issues of the campaign. The Political Science Club's mock presidential election resulted in a victory for the Nixon-Lodge team.

This spring, the club attended the Annual Regional and State Intercollegiate Conferences on Government at Harrisburg. Members of the organization were participants in the model parliament held in the state capitol buildings.

Election returns interest Political Science Club members Richard Spangler, ICG chairman; Sung Ho Hahm, vice-president; Joe Wagenseller, Park Mellott, Galen Young, Jacob Myers, Rosalind Griffin, Ken Lease, president; Belva Cassel, secretary-treasurer; Anne Powers, Beth Swanson, Sandra Lutz, and Ruth Koch.

Young Republicans

Holding an organization meeting, Jacob Myers informs Judy Good, Belva Cassel, Sandra Lutz, George Baker, and Rosalind Griffin of their duties as Young Republicans.

"NIXON AND LODGE"—the victors of our campus mock election was the team supported by our Young Republicans, under the leadership of Jacob Myers and Judy Cole. During the campaign the Nixon-Lodge group distributed literature and circulated a petition for Nixon. A trip to Lancaster to see Vice-President Nixon highlighted the Young Republicans' activities.

Joe Wagenseller plans party politics with Young Democrats Bonita Korowicki, Richard Spangler, Elsie Woodward, and Ken Lease.

Young Democrats

VICTORY—THE CLIMAX of the campaigning for Kennedy and Johnson by the Young Democrats! Cooperating with the Political Science Club, the Young Democrats worked under the leadership of Joe Wagenseller. Previous to election week, the Young Democrats distributed throughout Elizabethtown campaign pamphlets and buttons received from the "Citizens for Kennedy and Johnson Headquarters" in Lancaster.

Varsity E Club

BOTH AN HONOR and a service club, the Varsity "E" Club this year was headed by President Carroll Hershey, Vice President Ellwood Kerkeslager, Treasurer Herb Spannuth, and Secretary Ruth Ann Tice.

In the award division, the club of letter winners honored the outstanding senior athletes and presented the Hollinger Memorial Award to the most improved wrestler. Varsity "E" also made distinctive jackets and blazers available for its members.

Beyond these activities, the members cooperated to provide refreshments for sale at most athletic functions, mums on Homecoming Day, and programs for soccer and basketball games.

Women's Athletic Association

WAA members congregate outside Alpha. They are, on steps, Beth Swanson, President Martha Eppley, Vice President Naomi Lucabaugh, Secretary Ruth Ann Tice, Treasurer Barbara Jones, Intramural Chairman Linda Simkins, Esther Strehle, Susan Wood; standing, Janet Myers, Patricia Usinger, Molly Moerschbacher, Janet Bair, Joann Metzler, Lois Herr, Alayne Landes; kneeling, Janice Hall and Brenda Keener.

KEEPING THE WOMEN'S intramural program active for the entire year, certainly quite a job, was well done by this year's WAA. Sponsoring dormitory competition and interest in sports such as soccer, volleyball, bowling, basketball, ping-pong, and softball, the club fulfilled an important place in college life.

The club officers organized several parties and the Play-Day in the spring, in addition to the intramural games. Linda Simkins served as intramural chairman, while Esther Strehle represented the freshman class. One of the most unusual and enjoyable events of the year was the week-end camping trip to Camp Swatara.

In a club meeting Benson Murray, Ross Ricketts, Mrs. Herr, Carroll Hancock, Ilse Langer, Thomas Kramer, Douglas Cromer, Anne Makowaik, Roger Cabbage, and Richard Lytle use cards and records to perfect their use of French.

CONTINUING its program of expansion this year, the German Club instituted the exclusive use of the German language at all meetings. Films and rewarding discussions rounded out the club's activities.

French Club

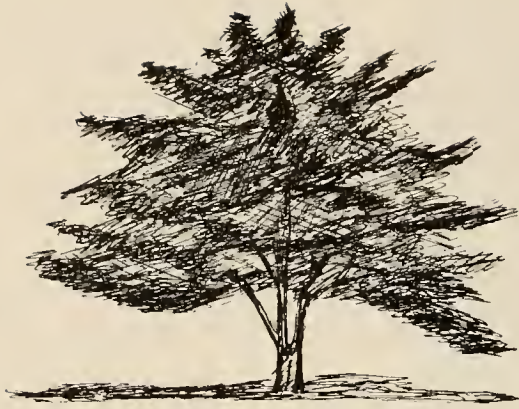

THE FRENCH CLUB has felt a considerable expansion in membership this year and has presented interesting speakers, films, and discussions. By speaking French at the meetings the club members have improved their understanding of French.

An outstanding event occurring in the early part of the year was the visit of Mrs. Leynaud DeVitry. Her discussion on her experiences in teaching conversational French and on her background, as well as the singing of French songs, proved beneficial to all attending.

German Club

Dr. Neumann relates some of his adventures in Europe to Dale Miller, Mrs. Neumann, Alan Levine, Phyllis Lackman, and Robert Bailey.

Campus Crier

IN APRIL OF 1960 a long yellow sheet appeared in campus mailboxes. This was the birth of the CAMPUS CRIER, an April fool paper filled with cynical comment about life at Elizabethtown College. Continued as a source of information for students, the CRIER appeared this year on alternate weeks when an ETOWNIAN was not published. Albert Yamada acted as coordinator for the paper.

T. Albert Yamada (sitting) and advisor James Yeingst prepare an edition of the CRIER.

Rudder

EACH FALL incoming freshmen receive a small book entitled the RUDDER which becomes a constant companion during the first trying weeks at Elizabethtown College. This small book includes all rules and regulations to be obeyed by students. Elsie Woodward presided as chairman of the group who compiled this year's publication.

Experience in Make-Up

Sock and Buskin

Selecting the best actor and best actress is serious business for Sock and Buskin members: secretary Sandra Reifsteck, Galen Young, Carol Heilman, president Robin Bonier, Claude Foreman, and Helen Brubaker.

UNDER THE CHAIRMANSHIP of Doris Weir, the Dramatic Workshop encouraged students to work in various phases of campus drama. Members of the group served on committees for all plays and provided cast members for several productions. Workshops were held at the college in lighting and makeup and at the Elizabethtown Area High School in staging.

Lisa Emery, David Ferrell, Gary Rohrbaugh, Stanley Delp, and Doris Weir are working toward membership in Sock and Buskin.

HAVING FELT THE NEED for recognition of on-campus dramatic excellence, Sock and Buskin this year created an award to be presented to the male and the female senior or last year student who has done the most for drama at Elizabethtown College.

Continuing its policy of attendance at non-campus productions, the club visited Allenberry Playhouse in the fall to see The Velvet Glove. At the beginning of the second semester, Sock and Buskin, as in previous years, sponsored a trip to New York, attending Gypsy and The Connection.

Sock and Buskin, as honorary drama organization, sponsors most of the college dramatic productions, which are under the direction of Mrs. C. G. Enterline, also the club sponsor. During the first semester these included The Madwoman of Chaillot, a French comedy, and Christmas at the Crossroads, a religious play. Sock and Buskin presentations second semester were An Inspector Calls, a suspense drama; The Figure on the Cross, a Lenten traveling play, and six one-act plays in conjunction with the class in Dramatic Production.

"Congratulations on a marvelous defense," the Countess tells the Raggicker after the trial. Countess Joan Lank and Raggicker Claude Foreman display the abilities that won them the honored titles of best actor and best actress in the Sock and Buskin election.

The Countesses (Joan Lank, Carol Heilman, Helen Brubaker) dance the mazurka.

"There is gold in Paris," Dennis Dougherty tells John Mummert, John Grove, and Don Zellner.

"The birds no longer sing in Paris," Virginia Colley, the deaf mute, (left foreground) explains to Lois Herr.

On a spring evening in 1912, Gerald Croft and Sheila Birling celebrate their engagement in the Birling dining room.

An Inspector Calls

Inspector Goole's appearance brings word of a girl's suicide. This phony inspector causes each member of the family to confess his part in the supposed death of the girl.

After the discovery of the fake inspector, a conscience-stricken cast makes a curtain call. They are Edna, the maid (Joan Lank), student director Helen Brubaker, young Eric Birling (John Mummert), mother Sybil Birling, (Carol Bush), father Arthur Birling (John Grove), Inspector Goole (Claude Foremen), daughter Sheila Birling (Robin Bonier) and fiancée Gerald Croft (Lonny Thomas).

College Christian Association

Professor Tyndall, Professor Snowden, and Dr. Boyet serve on a panel narrated by Bob Hanle to discuss the subject, "Increase in Knowledge, Decrease in Faith?", with ECCA members.

A NEW PROGRAM initiated by the ECCA this year is to provide one Wednesday of each month for denominational groups—Methodist, Lutheran, Brethren, Episcopal and Presbyterian—to meet individually.

In October, a student reception was held in honor of Brigitte Putze, German Exchange Student. Another major activity of the ECCA was a party for the crippled children at the State Hospital in Elizabethtown.

During the Christmas season ECCA, in cooperation with Sock and Buskin, presented a Christmas play, "Christmas at the Crossroads," at the Brethren Church.

Professor Snowden presents his own views on "Increase in Knowledge, Decrease in Faith?", as did the other two panel members.

Brethren Student Christian Movement

SEVEN MEMBERS of the Brethren Student Christian Movement—Fred Buckendorff, Jack Breidenstine, Ralph Buffenmyer, Janice Hall, Sondra Prosser, Charles Denlinger, and Clyde Kneider—and their advisor, Dr. Robert Byerly, represented Elizabethtown College at the Brethren Conference in Ashland, Ohio, November 24-27.

During the final session Jack Breidenstine was elected president of the conference for next year. Our delegates presented the final program of the conference, "Loving God With Your Mind."

The purpose of BSCM is to help Brethren students to become better acquainted and to share in fun, fellowship, and worship. As part of their program, they sponsored a party for the Brethren Children's Home in Neffsville, held a progressive religious program in homes of various professors, and attended a weekend retreat at Camp Swatara.

Jack Breidenstine, president; Lucy Clemens, Kitty Abey, vice-president; Terry Stoudnour, Janice Hall, secretary-treasurer; Ralph Buffenmyer, and Mary Ellen Dick make plans for a progressive meeting of the BSCM.

Lutheran Student Association

Sister Joan Henke, with LSA leaders Gayle Lowman, Brigitte Putze, Beth Deibert, and Gloria Paules, awaits the opening of meeting at the Lutheran Church.

LUTHERAN STUDENTS on our campus meet the first Wednesday of each month at the Christ Lutheran Church for discussions, films, and fellowship. Under the direction of Rev. and Mrs. Raymond Fetter and Sister Joan Henke, the group participated in three big events this year. In early fall, LSA sponsored a spaghetti supper for all Lutheran students and their friends. Miss Brigitte Putze, German Exchange Student, was guest speaker.

Beth Deibert was elected area president at the Annual LSA Conference held at Gettysburg College in early December. The last weekend in February, students of LSA attended the Annual North Atlantic Regional Conference at Buckhill Falls.

Eta Gamma Kappa

THIS YEAR, as a new development, Eta Gamma Kappa, fellowship of pre-ministerial students, chose a pin to signify their membership. Highlighting the program for the year were a trip to the Westminster Theological Seminary in November and frequent visits to the Green Room in Lancaster to hear theologians. In the spring the group participated in their annual retreat at Camp Swatara.

Canterbury Club

Members and advisors of the Canterbury Club—Mike Clayton, Prof. Bruce M. Tyndall, Ben Murray, Peter Beebee, Joe Wagenseller, the Rev. Emmert R. Moyer, Stan Graves, Park Mellott, Prof. John T. Dwyer—join in an informal discussion.

CANTERBURY CLUB, the Episcopal youth group on campus, holds its meetings according to the ECCA denominational set-up on the first Wednesday of each month.

On several holy days and other special occasions, the club celebrated the Holy Communion together in Rider Memorial Chapel. Under the guidance of Professors Tyndall and Dwyer and officers Park Mellott and Stanwood Graves, the club visited with other local college Canterbury Clubs. Outstanding events of the year were the visits of Father Chandlee, a missionary priest from the Philippines, in November and of the Bishop of Harrisburg in February.

Methodist Students

OPERATING UNDER the plan initiated by ECCA this year, Methodist and Presbyterian students usually meet the first Wednesday of every month. Speakers, movies, and discussions provide fun, fellowship, and a chance to exchange ideas.

Presbyterian Students

College Choir

THE ELIZABETHTOWN COLLEGE Choir, directed by Professor David P. Willoughby, has become an indispensable part of student activities. Made up of forty select voices, and accompanied by Betty Markley, the choir provided special music during Chapel Services, participated in various musical programs sponsored by the college, and toured throughout Pennsylvania and New Jersey highlighting many church and school programs.

Members of the choir enjoyed an evening of socializing at the home of Professor Willoughby early in the year. The social helped members to get acquainted and was soon followed by frequent practices in preparation for the busy schedule. The hard work proved to be worthwhile—the choir maintained its high standards in all performances.

Professors Fisher and Willoughby plan for a joint concert of the women's chorus and the male glee club.

Trio—Lorraine Murphy, Evelyn Strauss, and Mary Gladfelter.

Trio—Lynne Roudabush, Sandra Reifsteck, and Linda Hollinger.

Ensembles

THE VARIOUS ENSEMBLES, consisting of two Ladies' Trios, Two Men's Quartets, a Mixed Quartet, and a Women's Triple Trio, contributed much to the choral program of Elizabethtown College. The groups, made up of choir members only, are assisted by Professor Nevin Fisher and Professor Willoughby.

In addition to supplementing the touring program, the small groups organized deputations, sang for local service organizations, for chapel, and for school concerts and assemblies.

THE CHORAL UNION was organized at the beginning of the second semester. It consisted of members of the College Choir, the Women's Chorus, and the Men's Glee Club. Professor Fisher directed the group which presented the inspiring oratorio by Gounod, The Redemption, as a climax of their combined efforts.

Quartet—Dale Kilhefner, Glenn Bucher, Wilbur Gible, and Edward Beardslee.

Ensembles

THE WOMEN'S CHORUS proved to be the largest single musical organization of the college this year. Under the direction of Professor Fisher, the seventy-five voices performed well in the Secular Concert in November and also took part in various other musical events throughout the year. The repertoire of the chorus consisted largely of light, secular numbers.

THE MEN'S GLEE CLUB provided an opportunity for young men not in the College Choir to sing in a group. Professor Willoughby directed the chorus of twenty-five who also participated in a number of choral programs.

AS THE BLUE JAYS move onto the basketball court the E-tones strike up "When the Saints Come Marching In," and the cheering section responds enthusiastically. These musicians are a definite asset in establishing school spirit for all athletic events at Elizabethtown College. The E-tones perform at pep rallies and various student assemblies as well as at basketball games.

The E-tones—Charles Denlinger, Jack Huitt, Bob Whittlinger, Hubert Callihan, Glenn Bucher, and Bob Hanle helped to spark enthusiasm at the Homecoming Day soccer game.

Band

VIRTUALLY UNKNOWN to many students during the early part of the year, the Elizabethtown College Band presented its first concert on Sunday, March 5. The program included special numbers by a trumpet trio composed of Larry Smith, Richard Ensinger and Gil Rinehart and by a clarinet quartet composed of Lorraine

Krall, Phyllis Keener, Gloria Eshelman, and Nancy Neidlinger.

Under the direction of Mr. Willoughby, a similar concert was held later in the spring. Larry Smith, Phyllis Keener, and Mr. Willoughby also participated in the Fourteenth Annual Pennsylvania Intercollegiate Band Festival at Albright College, March 16-18.

Clarinet quartet — Lorraine Krall, Gloria Eshelman, Nancy Neidlinger, and Phyllis Keener.

Convocation

THE SIXTY-SECOND annual Charter Day Convocation exercises were highlighted by the address of Dr. Gould Wickey, prominent Lutheran clergyman. Dr. Wickey, holder of five honorary doctorates and executive director of the National Lutheran Educational Conference, Washington, D. C. spoke on "The Challenge of Cultural Changes to Christian Higher Education."

President A. C. Baugher presided during the service which marked the opening of the 1960-1961 academic year. Others taking part in the program were Dean Roy McAuley, Dr. Carl Zeigler, Dr. Nevin Zuck, and Professor Nevin W. Fisher.

THE WOMEN'S AUXILIARY of the College held its annual meeting on February 11 in the Fellowship Hall of the local Church of the Brethren. Dr. Eunice Roberts addressed the group on the role of educated women in the modern world. New officers were elected and Ethel M. B. Wenger, one of the founders of the auxiliary, was honored upon her retirement as president. A two-year project undertaken by these women, interested in the welfare of the College, is the equipment of room 168 in the library as a periodicals room. Other projects have included the purchase of third floor lounge furniture and a tea service for the New Women's Residence.

Graduation —

February —

With the robe, the hood, the processional, the music, the diploma, and the address the student becomes an alumnus.

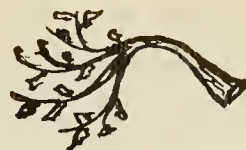

GRADUATION IS THE ULTIMATE goal in the process of acquiring a college education. Just as each bud and leaf signify the growth of the plant, the achievement of the college diploma is another step in the growth of an individual.

The May Commencement of 1961, largest of the three during the year, marked a highlight in the culmination of Dr. A. C. Baugher's duties as president of the College.

The symbol of achievement for the college student is the diploma presented to him by Dr. A. C. Baugher. This paper signifies the adequate completion of the course of study he has chosen at Elizabethtown College.

the Ultimate Goal

May – August

The feature Commencement address was given by Dr. Carroll V. Newsom, president of New York University.

Dr. George L. Detweiler, pastor of the Church of the Brethren, Waynesboro, Pa., delivered the Baccalaureate sermon. Honorary degrees were granted to Samuel Hinkle, president of Hershey Chocolate Corporation; J. Alfred Hamme, architect from York who designed several of the current buildings on campus; and Dr. Newsom.

Sports

*You are never lacking for something to do;
You never hurt others, or get in the road
In taking pleasures by nature bestowed;*

—James G. Needham

How applicable these three lines of poetry are to the athletic facet of college life. The students who participate in the athletic program of a college, whether intramural or intercollegiate, take advantage of one of the greatest gifts bestowed upon man—his well co-ordinated physical body.

Most sports are played outdoors on the very lap of Nature. This is most appropriate since Nature and athletics have some characteristics in common. Both contain action and fury culminating in fulfillment. This fulfillment in athletics may not always mean a win or a trophy. Most often, perhaps, it is just the knowledge that one gave his best effort on behalf of his team or college. After all, Nature's fulfillment is not always the ultimate of perfection. Who has not seen a misshapen tree or flower? But the miracle of that tree or flower is not necessarily its perfection. Its miracle lies rather in the very fact of its existence.

STARTING THE SEASON with a 16-1 victory over Susquehanna, the Blue Jays gave fans a first glance at what was to become one of the great soccer teams in the nation. Breaking record after record, the Jays fought their way to the NAIA Tournament where they soundly defeated Tabor College, Kansas, and became National Co-Champions, sharing the honors with Newark College of Engineering, New Jersey.

Throughout their ten game schedule and two tournament games, the Jays, coached by Ira R. Herr, maintained aggressive play and polished teamwork. Next year's team will have a hard time replacing such valuable players as Warner Cheeks, Russ Glazier, Carroll Hershey, Ellwood Kerkeslager, Herb Spannuth, and Don Schwartz, but capable returning booters intend to keep up the tradition.

Milestones of the 1960 season—Mike Yurchak sets an individual scoring record of 30 goals . . . Carroll Hershey scores 15, Al Hershey 14 . . . Team soars above previous season totals with 82 goals against their opponents' 14 . . . For the second straight year Elizabethtown booters receive NAIA tournament invitation . . . Carroll Hershey establishes a record of 25 assists . . . Squad carries undefeated string to 24 games.

Rewards of Victory—NAIA Co-Championship trophy was won at Slippery Rock State College . . . All-American honors went to Warner Cheeks and Carroll Hershey . . . Ellwood Kerkeslager was awarded the Most Valuable Player trophy at the NAIA playoffs . . . MAC Northern Division all-star recognition included Carroll Hershey, first team; Al Hershey and Warner Cheeks, second team; Ellwood Kerkeslager, Russ Glazier and Frank Zimmerman, honorable mention.

1960 TURNED OUT to be another success-filled year for the girls' field hockey team as they scored 43 goals and permitted only 7 to be scored against them. The high scoring force was led by sophomore Linda Eshelman with 16 goals, senior Lucy Clemens with 10, and sophomore Sally Wenger who tallied 8. Supported by a granite-like defense, goalie Brownie Tice, a senior, added five shut-outs to the Blue Jay record.

Since Miss Julia Risser has been coaching the Blue Jays, her victorious record covering 6 years boast 33 wins, 6 ties, and 7 losses. The Junior Varsity, coached by Miss Jean Anne Rogers, was led in scoring by Naomi Lucabaugh, a sophomore, and Sheila Laxton, a freshman.

Graduation cut deeply for next year's team will have to fill the places of seniors Kay Jones, Lucy Clemens, Pat Usinger, Carol Bush, Ruth Tice and two-year student Ruth Robinson.

Strategy is planned in a team huddle at halftime.

Cross Country

WITH THE EXPERIENCE of seniors Don Hosler and Lloyd Nyce and the coaching of Ira R. Herr, the 1960 thinclads opened the season with two straight victories but failed to continue the winning trend. Mike Staman, a freshman, and Wilbur Gible, a junior, set the pace throughout the year with Wally Macpherson and Bill Drear supporting them. Depending mainly upon freshmen, the team as a whole lacked experience but not the will to win.

Three leading harriers—Don Hosler, Lloyd Nyce and Wilbur Gible—flip a coin for first place.

Dr. Byerly's squad which includes Jim Balmer, Galen Lehman and Arthur Spease (first row, l. to r.) and Larry Hetzel, Gary Maul, Jim Weaver, and Joe Moore (second row, l. to r.) poses on the mats just before a meet.

COMING THROUGH with several decisive victories during the first semester, the Blue Jay wrestlers seemed to be headed in the right direction. Captain Jim Weaver and Coach Robert Byerly led the team from workouts to matches.

However, after semester grades came out, pinning four of the top men, the team wrestled under a rather severe handicap.

High scorers for the year were sophomore Galen Lehman, freshman Dick Long, junior Jim Weaver, and sophomore Bill Umberger. With the majority of his matmen returning, Coach Byerly can look forward to an experienced team for next year.

COACH DON SMITH'S Blue Jay basketball team won nine straight games at home before losing the season finale, on their way to an 11-11 season.

Pulling upsets over PMC, LVC, Millersville, and Dickinson, the Blue and Grey could do no wrong on the home boards.

Bob Geiger, Jay senior captain, finished his last season at E-Town by scoring 357 points, to bring his varsity total to 1,078.

Heading the scoring column with 369 points was junior Barry Boyer, who also led the Jays with a 47.6 percentage from the floor.

Ed Harnly was third in scoring with 336. He led the team in rebounding with 245.

Seniors Geiger, Harnly, and Marty Hefferan played their last games for the Blue Jays. Hefferan filled the role of playmaker, and found time to score 181 points.

With the loss of these three seniors through graduation, the Jays will have a tough row to hoe next season, but Coach Don Smith feels that the Jays will have a better than .500 season next year.

Ray Diener fights against Western Maryland.

Freshman Anne Sharp attempts a jump shot in close victory over Gettysburg.

POSTING ANOTHER winning season, the Jaygals outscored their opponents 494 to 440 points and demonstrated superb play on the hardwood. Seniors Lucy Clemens and Sandy Swann, forwards, and Kay Jones and Ruth Tice, guards, provided steady good play to insure the victorious record. Sophomore Cindy Kratzer, averaging 12.5 points per game, and freshman Anne Sharp with a 10.4 average consistently led the scoring.

With Miss Julia Risser coaching, the Jaygals successfully completed a year which had brought strong competition against them. The junior varsity, coached by Miss Jean Anne Rogers and led in scoring by Eleanor Hall, gained experience throughout the season, soundly defeating Lebanon Valley and the nurses from St. Joseph's in Lancaster.

Baseball

UNDER THE VETERAN coaching of Ira R. Herr, the victorious Blue Jay ball club compiled an excellent record of 10 wins against 7 losses. Coming just a game or two shy of the MAC playoffs, the 1960 team tied for third place while individual players distinguished themselves with stellar performances.

Freshman Ray Diener, throwing his famous fast ball, pitched his way to 4 victories and 86 strike-outs, as veteran Bob Geiger proved to be the mainstay of the pitching staff. The team as a whole performed spectacularly on defense, and on offense the team was always a threat to opposing pitchers. Second baseman Carroll Hershey finished the season with a perfect fielding average, while topping the Northern Division with 20 runs scored and an equal number of hits.

Although top hitters Bill Pennsylv, Lloyd Bortzfeld, and Ken Fasick came to bat for their last year, forecasts are good for 1961. The baseball team will be bolstered by eleven returning lettermen and several promising freshmen plus some upperclassmen reporting for the first time.

Ray Diener demonstrates his pitching ability.

RECORD—4 wins, 7 losses

WITH A DECISIVE VICTORY over Gettysburg and a close one over Millersville, Coach Don Smith's tennis squad brought the 1960 season to a climactic end. Dick Lantzy, senior, Eugene Gordon, junior, and Milt Smith, also a junior, came through as leaders of the Blue Jays on the tennis court. Left without these three top players, the 1961 team will rely on the ability of the few returning lettermen and oncoming freshmen to fill the ranks.

STROKING THE WAY to five victories and one close defeat, the 1960's women's tennis team helped establish a sport that, in the 1961 season, will be recognized as an official part of the athletic program. Seniors Bette Jane Holman, Shirley Lantzy, and Barbara Schlickenmacir played their last collegiate year on the courts. This spring Pat Usinger, Ruth Tice, and Top player Linda Eshelman will lead the team.
